

Fundraisers dig deep in fine fashion

By TOM BRISTOW
WOMEN dressed to impress at a Formby golf club to raise money for a children's hospice.

Boutique shop Blu Kangaroo! held its first charity fashion show at Formby Hall Golf Club and Spa in aid of Claire House. The event raised more than £2,500 for youngsters with life threatening conditions from across Merseyside, Cheshire, North Wales and the Isle of Man. More than 150 women en-

Women and girls shine in the sun to help hospice charity joyed a drinks reception, sponsored by GT Law, in the sun, followed by a two-course lunch. There were two fashion shows by Blu Kangaroo! and clothes shop Eloise, plus more than a dozen shopping stalls. David Paul and a Michael Bublè tribute act entertained the crowd. Christine Campbell of Blu Kangaroo! said: "What an amazing afternoon! Thank you to GT Law and Yaffé Fusion Art for working with us and a huge thank you to everyone who gave so generously. "We are thrilled to be able to help such a fabulous local charity and see the difference that this money will make to the children at Claire House."

boutique is based in the Galleries, Formby, and brings clothing from Italy, Denmark, France, Spain, LA, New York and London. For information visit www.blukangaroo.co.uk.

● Karen and Eloise Tasker modelling some of the styles on show at the event
Code: NA

● Andrea Myszkowski, Fiona Hipshaw, Gayle Simms, Frances Hipshaw and Suzanne Scott enjoy the sun and a drink
Code: NA

● Isobel, Beth, Daria and Halle modelled for the children's boutique, above, and, left, Sandra Carney from Yaffé Fusion Art and Christine Campbell from Blu Kangaroo! who organised the day
Codes: NA

● Isabella Buchanan and Ava Witham model some party styles for Blu Kangaroo!
Code: NA

